

SAABR (Turkey)

Whatsapp Conversation with SAABR contact

Friday 6th December 2024

Hello,

You persistently call this phone number belonging to me. You have also previously sent a report that doesn't have any relation to me and is not based on any official documents or findings.

As far as I can see, you intend to judge someone unfairly. Thus, can you please write why you called me?

This is my personal phone and isn't related to the company Saabr. We have had a commercial relationship with Saabr before, and all the documents and certificates of origin they provided were official and original without any doubt.

By claiming the opposite in your report, you cast a shadow over the official institutions of a country like Türkiye, which is an important partner of the EU. If there are official documents supporting your findings, you are expected to present them.

Earthsight Reply

Sorry Sir if we are reaching out to the wrong person.

Could you please help us get in touch with an official representative of SAABR – it is very important we receive an official response to the previously attached letter by Monday December 9th

All the information is in the letter

Saturday 7th December 2024

First of all, you must prove the information in your letter by presenting official documents.

Türkiye is not a party to the sanctions imposed on Russia, and this is very positively received by the authorities worldwide because it enables vital trade, such as the grain corridor, and acts as a bridge for the continuation of dialogue between the two parties.

Saabr we traded with is not a conduit for the illicit trade and does business completely within the legal framework. Therefore, we recommend that you do not carry out extrajudicial executions against a country and companies operating there.

It is obvious that the findings you have obtained are completely distorted from the truth, and are "specially served" information provided by competitors. We believe that you will not be a tool for such unfair accusations aimed at defaming a country and companies there. You are responsible for proving your claim, and if you do not have an official basis, do not forget that international legal remedies are open for those who are victimized.

Please explain to me who gave you my mobile phone number.

Earthsight Reply

Thank you for sharing your thoughts - could you please clarify if these are your personal opinions or an official response from SAABR

If SAABR would like to make an official response could they please reply to info@earth sight.org.uk

Deadline for a response is Monday 9th